Friends,

Have you every cooked a turkey before?

Sure, you were taught by your parents or you volunteered and family helped you. Well, that wasn't how I learned, and cooking a 30 pound turkey right out the gate is not what I would recommend as a crash test.

We decided to host a Thanksgiving dinner for teens on November 20th at City Life. Our community came together to provide fixings for the meal, and one generous supporter gave us (without being asked) a whopping 30 pound turkey. It was a beast, and a blessing! However, I (with no experience) found myself as the cook for the turkey. I have never had such anxiety about making a meal before.

However, with the help of Google, my wife, and God's grace, we figured out how to successfully make a turkey. With the help of four selfless, dedicated, and hardworking volunteers we somehow pulled off a great Thanksgiving dinner. No food was ruined, it all left at the end of the night, we got started on time, and the room was full of happy, eating teens. That wasn't even the best part, though.

That night we saw over 30 teens sitting at our tables, eating, laughing, and joking together. The churchd, unchurched, regular attendees, and new students all in one room. This is the most kids we have seen since I've arrived, and it's not the numbers that excite me, but it's the fact that over 30 teens sat with us and enjoyed Thanksgiving. We don't know how many, but we do know some of those kids didn't get a Thanksgiving dinner. Some didn't even have their family, even parents, around for a meal.

On November 20th, 2017, Central Oregon YFC stood in the gap, God gave His blessing on our plans, and a bunch of teens spent an evening in loving community. These are the moments we work, donate, volunteer, and pray for. May we never forget who provides for us and makes all these things possible, and more.

Grace and Peace,

More moments from the last month

From left: That is one big turkey (can for comparison), getting sneaky during a game of sardines (can you spot the teens?), and there is nothing quite like a pie to the face (sorry, Martin).
